

VetStem Cell Therapy Feline Renal Disease

Is your cat suffering from kidney disease? You're not alone. Feline renal disease is more common than you may think. In fact, chronic kidney disease (CKD) is a major cause of sickness and death in cats and unfortunately, the only definitive treatment is a surgical kidney transplant. But there may be another option...

VetStem Regenerative Cell Therapy

may be a treatment option for your cat with CKD.

Data from 40 cats with CKD treated with VetStem Cell Therapy showed improved renal blood values.

In an effort to collect more data, VetStem Biopharma is conducting a clinical research program to study the effects of VetStem Cell Therapy on cats with kidney disease. Could your cat benefit from stem cells?

Speak to your veterinarian to determine if your cat is eligible!
